

American Mechanical Inc. opens fabrication facility in Gallatin Gallatin, TN – Wednesday, March 5, 2014:

Gallatin officials and American Mechanical Inc. (AMI), a full service mechanical contractor, announced the opening of their newest fabrication facility in Gallatin. Based out of Chicago, IL, AMI specializes in providing expert industrial, institutional and commercial installations related to HVAC, manufacturing and chemical processing. An approved Woman Owned Minority Status Company, AMI currently has workers on-site throughout the Nashville region and the State. AMI expects to begin their fabricating operations this week when equipment installation is complete.

American Mechanical Inc. has been in business for over forty years with annual sales volume of more than 10 million dollars. “We are excited to have found a location in Gallatin that will enable us to operate a state-of-the-art fabrication facility,” stated Kimberlee Farley, owner and CFO of AMI, “We look forward to being a big part of growing Gallatin, the region and the State as well as benefiting from the opportunities that exist here.”

The AMI decision to base its newest fabrication facility in Gallatin was good news for city officials. Starting with two employees, after one short month in their facility, the company now employs thirty-seven workers. AMI attributes their growth to the huge boom in infrastructure and businesses in the Nashville area as well as the wealth of opportunities for growth in their industry. “We welcome American Mechanical Inc. to Gallatin,” said Mayor JoAnn Graves, “AMI’s rapid growth is indicative of the opportunities that exist in our City for businesses to grow and thrive.”

James Fenton, Executive Director of the Gallatin Economic Development Agency, agrees. “We are excited about AMI becoming a part of the City and our GEAR (Gallatin Expansion and Retention) program as they bring new opportunities and new jobs to Gallatin,” he said, “this announcement underscores the growth and success we are seeing.”
